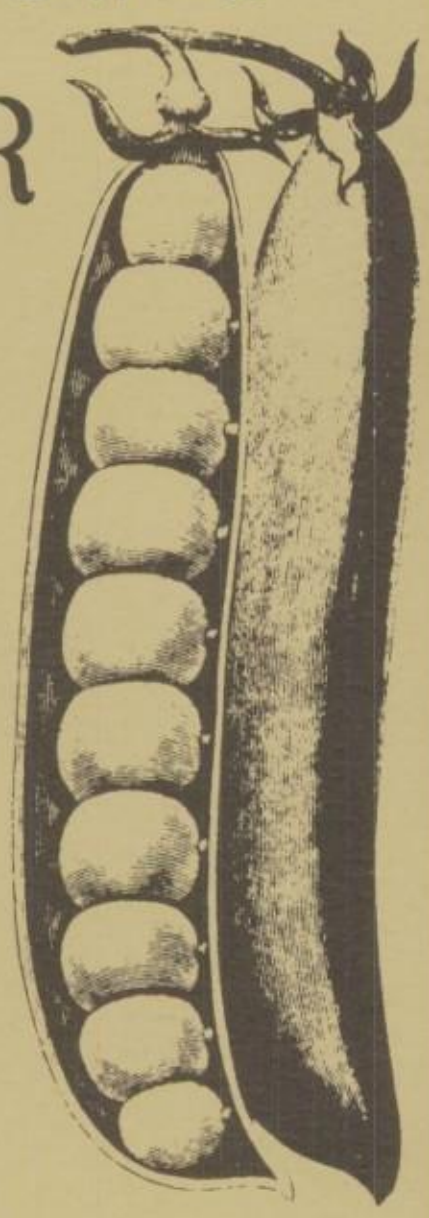
OUR SEEDS GROW!

how to grow a LANCER



Lancers are available in a variety of sizes, shapes and colors. All are unique and totally original.

The growing process begins through parental implantation. A large influence on the future Lancer is the family. Backgrounds vary from farming to newly located John Deere and Caterpillar plant workers. Soil's composition may change.

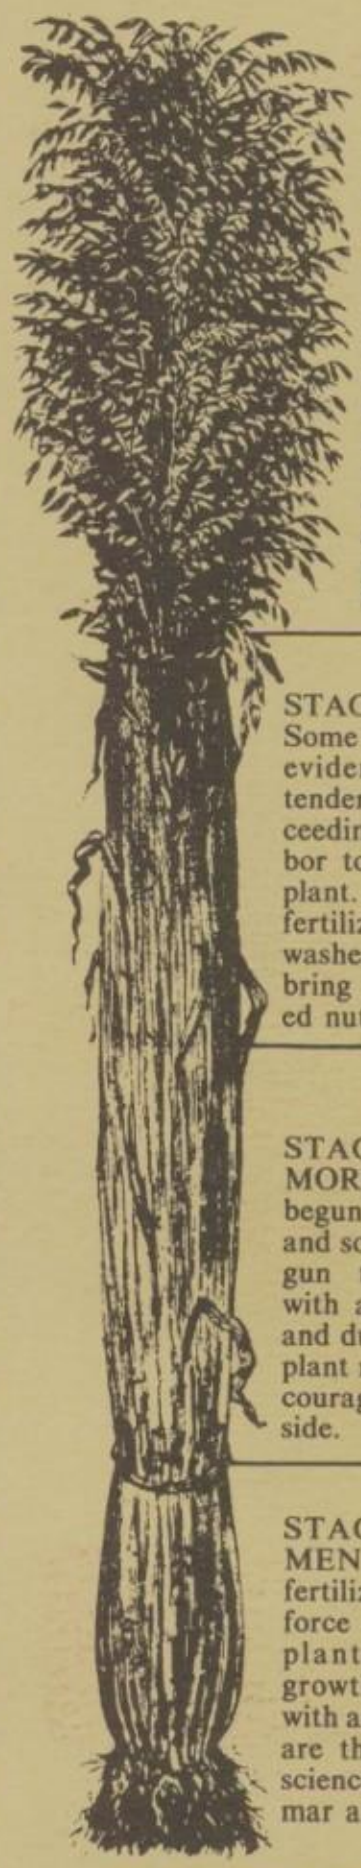
The neighborhood nurtures growth with strong comradeship or singular isolation. Pre-school offers some a more social indoctrination. For some this period of social germination is crucial.

Elementary induction in Lancerland can be in Eldridge at Edward White, Donahue at John Glenn, Princeton at Virgil Grissom, Long Grove at Alan Sheppard, and in Park View at the newly opened Neil Armstrong. They get seven years growth.

The North Scott Junior High opened its doors in 1975 for some breathing room to grow in open space. The mini-couse concept is used for fertilizer.

Secondary fruition takes place in the high school with the opportunity to branch out and refine and polish the leaves of the Lancer plant.

Graduation is the first blossoming of a Lancer which will be transplanted for full maturation.



STAGE 4: SENIORS: The growth process is nearly completed, with additional foilage acquired later. The plants leave CISI computerized and American Governmentalized. Annual in hand the plant is now prepared to weather any kind of storm and can assume its proper place in a field of its choice.

STAGE 3: JUNIORS: Some sign of blooming is evident, showing the tenders that they are succeeding in their hard labor to produce a hardy plant. Some educational fertilizer is added. Car washes and bake sales bring into the fibre added nutrition.

STAGE 2: SOPHOMORES: The roots have begun to take hold now and some growth has begun to show. Doused with a variety of group and duo experiences, the plant needs hope and encouragement from outside.

STAGE 1: FRESHMEN: At NS we try to fertilize early and reinforce root growth. Implantation into the growth pattern starts with an orientation; They are then saturated with science, English grammar and fine arts.

This is the house that the home building class built.

When Gary Ewoldt sold his land to the North Scott School District one of the most constructive courses at NSHS began. After much preplanning and the hiring of Mr. Marc Shelstrom work began at 710 West Sheridan Drive in August of 1977.

Our initial efforts in home building had an expected completed date of the first week of May. With a little of the work for footings, heat and plumbing contracted out, the finished product went on the market for a price in the mid 60's.

At two periods a day the home building class constructed a pretty classy home!!

For Denise Carey, working at Dial Finance means spending time learning to process transactions through the company's computer. Answering a question is her boss Jay Schweer.

While working in the safety department at Caterpillar Nancy Esbaum receives assistance from her boss Bob Garcia. As the local Caterpillar plant expands, more work-study jobs are hoped for.

Deb Hoffman demonstrates to Cindy Pahl and Jill DeWulf another part of their job at Central Trust and Savings Bank. Many students find employment in local banks after graduation.

Michelle Kuehl and Cathy Tennis gain valuable experience watching accountant Earl Oelerich as he explains an accounting procedure.

Debbie Niemann and her boss Joanne Mercer look up for a moment from their work at Olsen Engineering.

Learning To Work

What better way to learn to work than to work to learn? Several N.S. students got a chance to do just that, by participating in the work-study program offered at N.S. Under the direction of Mrs. Marge Gibb these students attended a two hour class in the morning in which they studied office procedures, business relations, and other subjects related to the work experience. Each girl then "went to work" in an office of a nearby employer. The coordinator, with the help of written reports from the employer, then determined a grade for both classroom and office work. These pictures show a few of the girls and their bosses who made the work-study program work.

Our 1977 Homecoming began on October 3 with Cowboys and Indians Day. Lancers came bedecked as Indian squaws, cowboys and outlaws from the days of the Old West. Tuesday was Inside-Out Day. Everyone looked a little strange with their seams out! Wednesday looked like halloween was really here with Masquerade Day. Many students were very inventive as they took this opportunity to acquire "different" personalities!

Hush Day shut up a few people on Thursday, and any girl talking to a guy during class breaks automatically forfeited her homecoming button. Hush Day became loud as the snake dance and skit night were held that evening. The week came to an end with Red and Gray and Be Nice to Players Day. The climax of all the festivities with the crowning of our queen came at the traditional aud. The weekend was rainy and wet, but the homecoming spirit of 1977 was one to be remembered.

A tree in Scott County park provides a regal place to sit for NS 1977 Homecoming Queen KOREEN KNUTSON. Other trees provided settings for attendants JOANIE GRAHAM and MARGO DOWNS on a beautiful day in the park.

The foliage of fall provides a beautiful background to attendants PATTI VAN DE WIELE and JANE HAMILTON.

North Scott grew even more this year with the addition of a special education program to meet the special goals of seven special students. This self-contained program in a trailer at the end of A-Hall was under the direction of Miss Jane Bergendahl. The program's goals consisted of basic math, reading and writing skills necessary to function after graduation. From the kitchen to the money charts on the wall this special place at North Scott was made for these very special Lancers.

Dear friends,

Greetings from Germany!

I spent my first month away from home in Hamburg, W. Germany. Each morning I went to classes at Gymnasium Mussenredder learning German history, politics, and grammar.

On July 28 Y.F.U. organizers came into our classroom and handed out train tickets and addresses. On July 29, we took off on our separate ways loaded with luggage and knowing nothing about the future except a family name. I rode from Hamburg to Passau, a beautiful city on the Austrian border. There I met Frau Engl and my six brothers and sisters.

We lived on a big farm near Eding in the Bavarian forest. On September 15 I started school in Gymnasium Vilshofen in the tenth grade.

Our fall vacation came on November 2 and I moved again to a small town near Hamburg, GroBhansdorf.

On November 24 I moved in with the Dr. and Frau Eisenberger family. My father is a veterinarian of cows, pigs and horses. I love to go with him on visits.

Every morning we get up at 6:00 and catch our bus from the Marketplatz in Rehren at 6:40. I know how much everyone at North Scott loves that great bus ride to school. But here bussing is a privilege that students must pay for at $8.00 monthly.

We have every other Saturday free, and I take all the regular classes except French. On Wednesday afternoons, I play in the school orchestra. We are 2 cellos, 17 violins, 5 flutes, and 1 bassoon. Guess who the music teacher's favorite student is? "Jeneva" this, "Jeneva" that ...

School is fun for me. Chemistry is easy because I have had it before. On a recent test the whole class got in trouble for using crib notes. Dr. Saur, the teacher, finally calmed down however and performed some good explosions with magnesium nitrate.

I am looking forward to telling you all of my wonderful year.

Schöne Grüße an
North Scott,

Jennifer Hill

P.S. Almost forgot, yes, I've learned to drink beer and I dig guys in lederhosen!

This is Ulrike, 17, and Elke Eisenburger, 19, two of my adopted sisters.

This barnyard in Bavaria has two familiar sights: animals and motorcycles.

I wanted you to see the beautiful Harz Mountains and a Rodelbahnen. ...

Das Is Our Jennifer In Deutchland

These two pages are from Jennifer Hill, a Youth for Understanding student in Germany. The Shield is happy to have helped her remember 1977-8.

I spent three months in Bavaria where I joined in the Engl Family band; I even played in a parade!! I'm the one without the native costume.

I took this picture of my classmates to show that they look a lot like what you would expect.

This is a boys gym class. I couldn't resist taking this picture. I did a lot of sightseeing!!

To Our Friends and Customers:

Although among the first to be read, this is one of the last pages of our annual to be written. While the writing of our annual does not begin until the fall, we did prepare for it throughout the spring and summer by making notes on various vegetables, grains, and flowers and by attending yearbook seminars and summer workshops.

Unlike many seedsmen we do not confine ourselves to testing the vitality of the "seeds" grown by us, but of greater importance are the first field trials of all the stocks we grow. The amount of work this requires can scarcely be realized, but it is of the utmost importance to our customers. By this means we know the merits of each variety, and are thus enabled to annually supply "seeds" direct to a great number of employers and colleges with favorable results.

We realize that any success is in part due to the contributions and considerations of our friends, to whom we are deeply grateful.

With the twentieth volume we have tried to put together this year in an original and meaningful way. We really believe that growth is the only evidence of life, and without the vitality of life we are nothing.

With best wishes for the future to all our classmates, staff co-workers, friends and patrons, we remain very truly yours,

Connie Campana and Jeni Gertz, Co-Editors

OUR FIRST SEASON CARROTS: Our trials of this carrot so far this season have been very satisfactory, and we do not hesitate to recommend it as one of our very best varieties. This carrot is longer than most and also broader at the shoulder, hence much more productive. In some areas 20 or 30 per class is no unusual crop. Per pkt. 10 cts.; ¼ lb. 40 cts.

Being a freshman means that I only have four more years left of school. I am in the youngest class here. It also means I have to learn a whole new group of teachers. I can also be on my own or with a group of friends in the commons, which gives me more freedom. There are also not as many people telling you what to do and I like that.

SHERI FORD

To be a freshman in North Scott High is the first step to graduating. You meet more people and learn different things. You're starting out in the lowest grade so you must try harder than you did in junior high. It's a new experience for you are starting all over again at the bottom.

Being a freshman at North Scott High School means that you have to prove yourself. The upper classmen think that all freshmen are dumb. To prove that this doesn't apply to him a freshman has many things he has to do. First of all, he needs to get good grades. A freshman that flunks out of many classes will never earn a respectable place in an upper classman's mind.

The second thing for a freshman to do is act civilized. If he is constantly running around, screaming, and making a fool of himself, he will be looked upon as a nut.

But this doesn't mean that a freshman should be a square. He should be involved in extracurricular activities, take part in school functions, and most of all have a sense of humor. Any freshman at North Scott High that follows these guidelines has a good chance of holding a high spot in many upper classmen's minds.

ALICE WAY

Being a freshman is a lot tougher than junior high. We all want to pass and get as many credits as we can, so we can take it a little easier in the next three years.

It's also a lot more fun than at junior high. For example, at homecoming all we had last year was the game, this year we had an aud almost every day. We also have a chance at SPACE to get us out of long, boring study halls.

But most of all the teachers aren't nearly as bad as they were in junior high. They baby us to get our work in.

GREG SPENCER

Being a freshmen at North Scott High is fun in some ways, but to tell the truth, the sooner I become a sophomore the better. I say this because all of the kids that are in 10th, 11th, and 12th grade like to make us freshmen feel like we're not any good. They enjoy pushing us around, bossing us, playing tricks on us, and lots of other things that aren't too nice. Of course, they probably do this because that's how they were treated when they were freshmen, and they just want to get even. But we weren't the ones who were older than them and who pushed them around; why take it out on us?

Being a freshman gives you more responsibilities. You have your choices of many courses to take. A four year layout of courses is many times in the back of your head. If you have plans to go to college to form a career then you have to know what course or two besides the assigned ones to take.

Being a freshman is also many times a headache. There is extra work, compared to junior high, that has to be done. Also you have to watch yourself with the older kids. They will sometimes harass you for the fun of it. You are the smallest of all the classes, which is a problem.

JOHN AHLBERG:

Being a freshman makes me feel small and big all at once. I feel small because I'm going to a different school and I am in the lowest grade. It's like you're in first grade again. I feel big though, because I am out of grade school.

I like being at North Scott, but not being a freshmen. One reason I don't like being a freshman is that you are sort of the little kids.

Another reason I don't like being a freshmen is because everyone thinks that freshmen shouldn't be on SPACE. I agree some freshmen can't handle themselves, but that doesn't go for all of them. These are my reasons for not liking to be a freshmen.

Being a freshman at North Scott High is sort of rough. It is like being in kindergarten again. Once more you are the youngest in the school. I am not blaming anyone for how they treat us because they went through it too. It is this way now and it will be always for every freshman.

Once you become a freshman you must learn to cooperate and adjust to new surroundings. Once you do, you are able to fit in with the rest and live another 8:00 to 3:20 day.

DARREN COURVILLE

What is it like to be a freshman? It's the pits! We're the last to get everything. Like our SPACE card, because they are so strict with them. Also all the girls go with the seniors and we get the dogs.

Being a freshman at any school isn't as easy as we'd like it to be, we're the youngest group in the school, so we're picked on a lot. Also, not much is open to us, as it is to the upper classmen.

Most freshmen feel that we're "nothing" and can't do as much as we'd like. We get pretty tired of hearing "those stupid freshmen". Sure we're unexperienced at high school life, but we have a lot to give in the way of school spirit and pride.

FROSH SQUASH: We are indebted to Scott County for this handsome and prolific variety. Each squash produces 9 to 13 headaches per day. The squash, found often in pairs are very solid and good eating. They are excellent quality for table use. They are good growers, mature early and keep in fine condition until early spring. Per pkt. 14 cts./ ¼ lb. 60 cts.

To me being a freshman at North Scott High means beginning a whole new experience. It is much different than my previous years. It means meeting many new people, meeting new teachers, and doing new things. I like school because I know it's good for me and also that it is necessary for a good career. A freshmen at North Scott is put down a lot of times because we are the youngest group of kids in the school. However, most of us get over that.

We have a few more privileges as freshmen than we used to. We can do things or be at places with not as much supervision. If we can act our age and stay under control we might get to do more.

Being a freshmen is O.K. though I'd rather be an upper classman so that I wouldn't get picked on so much. However, like I always say, "Without freshmen, how would this school get along?"

Golden Wax Bean: This new and prolific pole bean introduced to us this year presents a magnificent sight in growth. The pods, with a rich handsome golden color, grow to 7 or 8 inches in length. In fine quality and everbearing character, this fine pole bean is unique and cannot be too highly recommended. It basically speaks English and on occasion is known to pick up its room. The Class of 1980, the sophomores, are now a year closer to graduation. With increasing interests outside of school the responsibility of work in school became apparent throughout the year.

Only three courses were required: English II, American History and physical education.

We had fourteen homerooms in 1977-8; each one electing a student congress representative in the fall to represent us throughout the year.

We presented a spoof of a North Scott-Camanche football game for Homecoming week skit night. C-hall was transferred into "Indian Massacre", which captured us first place. We also sponsored the Homecoming Dance.

It's like making what you've got a little better than before. I think that sophomores here get treated better than freshmen, but I think we have harder work.

The Junior Class was made up of 250 students divided into thirteen homerooms. Juniors were no longer required to take any particular courses. Only those courses needed to complete graduation requirements were chosen. As Juniors, the class was given the responsibility of sponsoring the Prom. Juniors began preparations early. Before every home football game, they put on bake sales to earn money. They showed spirit and class participation by putting on the winning skit at the Pep Rally for Homecoming. This skit was a take off of the "Wheel of Fortune." They decked "A" hall into a movie theater showing the cast of Lancers headed for a victory.

SHIELD SEED COMPANY

To be a Junior is really great. Nobody picks on us anymore and we start to know a lot more people. After being a Freshmen the years seem to zoom by.

It's kind of the last year for fun. Next year we'll have to worry about graduating. The Junior year in school, I would say, is one of the best years to be in school.

DEAN GLUNZ

Being a Junior means more work but also having fun. As a Junior I have found that I have more work to do, so that I can get my credits. But I feel I want to earn them, not have them just handed to me and that gives me something to look forward to. Some Juniors and Seniors feel school is a drag because of the time remaining. But it is only the way you make it. But mostly being a Junior means looking forward to becoming a Senior, to your future, and to what you plan to do with your life.

EVERLASTING JUNIOR QUALITY

GIANT WHITE SOLID CELERY: This very distinct and valuable variety hails from Scott County, Iowa where for many years it has been in the possession of a family of friends. Tempered by daily application of interesting announcements and liberal detentions the result is most acceptable for growth and fruitation. It attains a very large size and is of swift growth. For celery it is remarkably solid, blanches perfectly white, and is of an exceedingly fine flavor. Per pkt. 5cts; per lb. $2.50.

In a way it is a big accomplishment because I have made it through eleven years of school. But it also means that soon I will be leaving the school and the faces that I am used to and going on to a strange college with strange faces. I am confident, though, that if I can survive these last two years in high school, I can survive anything.

SHERYL DARLAND

Being a junior at North Scott means confusion to me. It is coping with decisions that are needed to be made everyday. With only one year, after this, left, it gives me the feeling that I have accomplished something. I never really enjoyed school until I came here to North Scott. I guess what appealed to me most at the junior high and high school is that many activities and opportunities that are offered and supported by the school and its supporters.

Being a junior not only makes me think about what I have achieved but what my future goals are. Having only one year left in high school tells me more is expected from me as I am now an adult. I also feel like a phase of my life is nearing completion. I try to fit everything I want to do into my schedule knowing that once I graduate things won't be the same.

SPLENDID SENIOR SPECIALTIES

President Joani Graham Leads Seniors Down "Hall of Fame"

The 1978 Senior class consists of 222 seniors. They are spread out through twelve homerooms. Their only required course in the senior year is American government, if they have passed the required courses of their earlier years. The seniors' Deck the Halls effort came in third with the theme being 'The Lancer "Hall" of Fame.' The skit consisted of several Lancer 'Men' forecasting the outcome of the game.

SCOTT COUNTY SPINACH: This broad leaved favorite is guaranteed not to grow high or wild in the field. Cultivated and cooked properly it will retain its superior flavor and pizazz. Not to be confused with leaf tobacco or other substances this spinach is a North Scott favorite.

Seniors Look Forward To End Of The Vine: May 25, 1978

I don't feel like I'm a senior. I always used to look up to the seniors and feel that they had something superior over the rest of us but now that I'm one I really don't feel any different or superior.

Sometimes it's kind of scary and sad to think I'm a senior because there are a lot of things I'll miss. It's also the last year of security before I go out into the world.

JODY ANDERSON

Being a senior at N.S.H.S. means looking toward the future and deciding what you should do with the rest of your life. Being a senior is fun, to know that you made it this far.

Being a senior at North Scott High is a very important time of anyone's life. It's full of many decisions and memories. Decisions of what is to come for you in the future, responsibilities now set in front of you as you take the big step into our world as an adult. Memories of the times and experiences shared during your high school days.

What life plans no one ever knows, but to finish your high school education is a step in the right direction for everyone!

CYNDI MARTEN

Being a senior is like riding a roller coaster. There are times when I', so active I feel I'll never get done. But when I reach my goal there is a sense of achievement and a certain heighth of accomplishment.

CONNIE CROSSEN

I've found it's expensive being a senior. About everytime we have a homeroom there is something to pay for. I'm really glad, though, I'm finally a senior.

D-Hall Lounging Bench Closed To Seniors

Through my years of educational schooling at North Scott, I have always looked up at my fellow students and friends, the seniors. Now that I have made it myself I find that I can neither read nor write and that I shall still be a senior for the years to come. Not a very good thought, one would feel, but I just may make the record book soon. The first to graduate five years late. I suppose I should take up teaching, beings I will be here longer than most teachers. But all in all my closing line should be said. As a senior at North Scott you can get away with more and still more and still more and still . . .

I really don't feel old enough to be graduating already. It's scary to think about.

TAMMY LOWER

Being a senior is not what I always expected it would be like. Since I have been a senior I am treated as an adult more than I have ever been before by my family and teachers.

WENDY KRAFT

For me it is something special!

RENEE DOBRASKA

To be a senior means that soon you will be a graduate and off doing somthing else. You'll have to make many decisions on your own. I feel being a senior is just another phase in your life.

I do feel like a senior because no one is bigger than us, but the faces and the place is still the same.

Being a senior at North Scott has proved to be very interesting. There seems to be a lot of responsibility on us, especially the young kids look up to you.

I have to say my senior year is a very memorable experience. It is the beginning of the end of high school. After this we will be on our own in that big world out there. But the friends I've met and the experiences I've had here at North Scott will be deeply cherished by me always.

MARIANNE CURTIS

I feel there is something lacking in class unity. As an underclassman I always thought it would be great to be a senior because everyone seemed so close. But, so far I have been able to survive.

It is like you're pretty important sometimes. Things are centered around the seniors. It's an important feeling, but sometimes it can be scary. Next year will be the beginning of almost a new life. Second Year Of Self Scheduling Keeps Counselor's Schedules Full CARROLL VIS, M.A. University of Iowa, Guidance Parent meetings, Peer Counseling, waits for a student to enter his office.

There were no new faces in the Guidance Department this year, but the counselors have gotten to know a lot of new faces.

The counselors are still as busy as ever, but make every effort to meet with each student. Sometimes a student has to wait a day or two to get in to see their counselor. The counselors have been very busy this year with the schedule changes of students.

Students are making use of a new deck-water teletype placed in the guidance office. It is used to run a variety of computer programs. Primarily the computer is to be used to answer the careerintreat survey and learn about possible careers. It may also ask the computer about particular jobs and careers. It may also suggest what to take in high school, or where to get advanced learning.

Counselors are also trying to get more students involved in helping other students through Peer-Counseling.

Social Studies Breaks Sex Barrier Mrs. Schmidt Joins Male History

The Social Studies Department has broken down the barriers of discrimination over the past two years. This year they have broken down the sex barrier by adding Mrs. Schmidt. They have broken the age barrier by having the younger generation, Mr. Denner. Still entrenched are the four elder statesmen: Mr. Scott, Mr. Lake, Mr. Agosta, and Mr. Schatz.

The department offers simulation games, participation in a trip to Washington D.C. with a few students and offer new elective courses as students interests dictates. However they have not departed from the basics, especially in the required offerings. And they do appear to have some popular electives based on numbers choosing these courses.

It is recognized that they might be in trouble in most of their courses if:

a. the teacher lost his voice
b. all film projectors were not working
c. the ditto machine broke down.

The North Scott volleyball team was filled with enthusiasm when it started its first practice on August 15. The practices were dominated by hard work, dedication, and lots of concentration. The players who got to start were the ones that did their best.

The North Scott team had a really good attitude on and off the court. Whether they won or lost didn't matter as much, as long as they knew that they had done their best.

After the games, if the team was confident they had done their best, there was a lot of enthusiasm.

Coach Bullis Tackles Organization Of Freshmen Team

The freshmen football team got its first taste of the tough Davenport teams this year. They played against Assumption, Smart, Williams, and Bettendorf. They had a heart-breaking 1-7 record, beating Muscatine. The freshmen team was headed by a new coach, Tom Bullis. He felt that his team's strongest point was its defense. This year's captains were Tom Nagle and Matt Fleming. Coach Bullis felt that the team's hardest game was against Bettendorf Gold. He also said that the game in which his team played the best was against Davenport Assumption. Brent Pumphrey led the frosh as leading ground-gainer. Rick Bainter, who started as leading third-string quarterback, moved to first-string and was leading passer for the year. Carlos Simoni was leading scorer.

The 1977 football team was plagued with injuries and lots of rain. Despite the difficulty in playing, the Lancers rolled to a respectable 5 and 4 season.

In the second game of the season Scott Anderson and Bevin Franklin were injured. Then later in the season Duane Amhof, Randy Spies, Dan Newell and Jerry Griggs were hurt.

The Lancers this year earned a reputation of being tough in the mud. This was due to playing 5 games in a row in bad playing conditions.

This year was special because it was Coach Lake's last year of coaching. He was very happy to close out his coaching career with a winning season.

Cross Country Competition Endures First Year

This year saw a new sport emerge from North Scott: boys and girls' cross country. This was their first year of competition. Both teams had 14 participants. They each had 10 meets plus district and invitational meets. The girls' distance running team finished sixth at district, while the boys finished seventh at the Tipton Invitational. "Most Improved Player" for the season was Michelle Dwyer.

The Sophomore boys basketball squad had some tough competition this year with a mid-season mark of 3 wins and 10 losses. First year coach Ron Brown says the year got off to a slow start, but felt his team had much talent which surfaced.

The Freshmen basketball team also started off the year slow. Coach Delmar Ryan made some position changes to get the team playing together. With team spirit and high attitudes, they scored victories for North Scott.

The North Scott Boys Basketball team started their season with two weeks of hard practice before their first game against Muscatine on Dec. 22. The Lancers' first win came against a tough Davenport Assumption team. The win came under the leadership of five returning lettermen: Kris Jansen, Jerrie Griggs, Lloyd Claussen, Mitch Glunz, and Tom McGrath. N.S. Girls Zap West, Central, Assumption In One Week

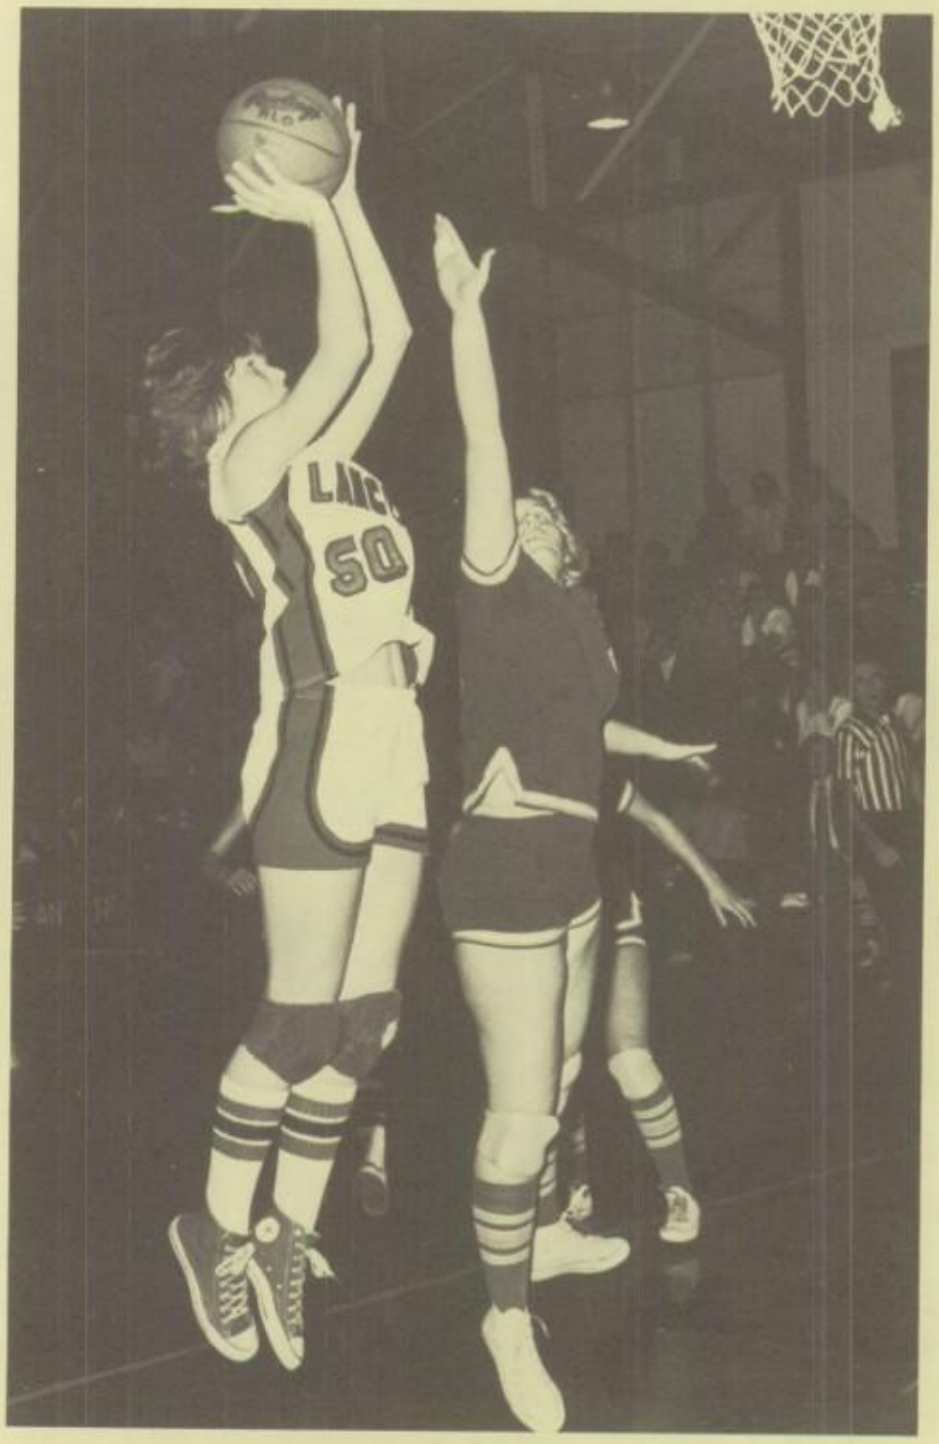
The North Scott Lancer's Girls' basketball team started the year with high hopes. The cagers were coached by Ken Nevenhoven and assistant coach Brad Colton. The team was well balanced in both the forward and guard courts, which featured 6 seniors, 7 juniors, and 1 sophomore. Returning letter winners were Koreen Knutson, Ila Jean Keppy, Peg Geary, Denise Arp, and Cindy Marten. The Lancers hoped to improve their season record over their fine performance last year.

Their most impressive game of the year was their victory over the Pleasant Valley Spartans in which they snapped P.V.'s 15 game winning streak 50-46 and knocked them from the state rankings.



Koreen Knutson takes to the basket for two.

Coached by Mr. Ron VenHorst, the sophomore girl's basketball team had a 6-6 record win in the Big Bend Conference. Their most important win came against the always tough P.V. team. The young Lancers won both encounters. The sophomore's ran a similar zone defense used by the Varsity team. The girl's had three managers this year: Lori Siemsen, Anne Ehrecke, and Amy Tank.

Mr. VenHorst, a graduate of PV High School, took alot of good humored fun. Even the Quad City Times took Mr. VenHorst into the spotlight at conference game time! He swore allegiance to the Lancers, though!

Bettendorf proved to be the biggest challenge to the team. It was the touchest game of the season with both teams trying to pull ahead until the very end.

WINNING WRESTLER'S WHEAT: A valuable native annual wheat can be found in a mixture of weights. Growing well in our school, it can be found in the hottest and dryest rooms. This plant works constantly to loose weight as it functions on little food, but when fed it absorbs much. This plant is well coached, but often finds itself alone to glory in the bask of winning or the agony of defeat. Often referred to as a mat wheat it stands up tall at any cost and often trys to pin those around it. A highly sweaty wheat, it's shaft is sleek and muscular. $4.39 per bushel; 141 bushel to the acre.

The North Scott sophomore wrestling team saw 13 members on the team. The sophomores started up the year with meets against Rock Island and Western Dubuque. Bart Costello scored pins in both meets, but this wasn't enough as the sophomores lost both due to 3 forfeits against both teams.

The wrestling team did see a new face though, Anne Volrath was the first female manager for the sophomores. The wrestling team also sold light bulbs, aiming to sell enough for new uniforms, but fell short of that mark. Coach Dennis Johnson said next year they would like to get an electronic scale.

Competing in the Tri-County Chess Leauge with five other schools, the team held their first meet on Jan, 24 against West which they won 85-25. They also played against Sherrard, Bettendorf, and Rock Island. Members win their matches by winning two out of three games. Members play according to their ability with the poorest playing the poorest and the best playing the best. This years team had 8 members and coach Art Bennett said the Chess Club has been gaining popularity over the last few years and hopes to see more people competing next year. Spinsters Maggie And Dottie Knock 'Em Dead For 3 Nights

As Mark Main finds a pen, Dave Baker, Dotti Steffen, and Margaret Costello read over the commitment papers.

The sleepless nights for the cast of "Arsenic and Old Lace" were obviously not wasted. The story of two elderly spinsters, their odd family, and many dead bodies added up to frequent laughs. The spinsters, Maggie Costello and Dotti Steffen, had three nephews who were all rather odd.

Teddy, played by Denny O'Connor, thought he was the president. Mortimer, a sophisticated play reviewer, was played by David Baker. The third brother was Jonathan, a mean, rude criminal. He was played by Keith Hentrich.

The old ladies killed their boarders with their elderberry wine. Mortimer found out, and decided to blame Teddy, who was deranged anyway. However, Jonathan arrived and complicated things. The situation was resolved in time for the last curtain, however, when the only problem was faced by dead body Doni Van Ryswyk, whose mustache fell off.

L. P. Revives Lancer Speech Inv. Trips & Contests Highlight Year

Lancer Productions started off the year by electing new officers. Maggie Costello moved up from the position of President-Elect. Cindy Simkins was voted vice-president, LuAnn Weis, secretary and Tony Dexter was treasurer. The first thing on the agenda was the revising of the Lancer Speech Invitational on Saturday October 15. It was last held in 1972. This year LP featured two reader's theatre productions: "Winnie the Pooh" and "The Case of the Crushed Petunias."

November 4th and 5th found many LP members in Iowa City for the Iowa Forensic League's Colloquy. A highlight of the trip was the University of Iowa's production of "West Side Story."

November also brought the first three night run of a fall play at North Scott. LP's production of "Arsenic and Old Lace" was held November 10, 11 and 12.

Chicago was the destination of some LP members on Sunday November 13 to see professional productions of "Pippin" and "Vanities."

In December LP members went to see Circa 21's production of "Fiddler on the Roof."

January brought the Iowa High School Speech Association's District contests for LP members.

Davenport's Broadway Theatre League provided a chance for LP members to usher and view three traveling productions of Broadway hits.

FCA (Fellowship of Christian Athletes) held its first meeting on October 5, 1977. Jim Bennett, the newly-elected president, began the meeting by saying an opening prayer. Other officers were Duane Amhof, Vice President, Randy Spies, Treasurer, and Peg Geary, Secretary. The FCA is under the direction of Delmar Ryan and Randy Denner.

On October 9, a group went to Augustana College where they heard a featured speaker Scott Thompson. They also saw the movie "A Little Inconvenience". For the second year in a row the movie "Thief In A Night" was shown. A record crowd of 108 people attended this meeting. A third movie "The Devil's Coach" was also shown at a meeting. These movies were financed by the club with profits from a candy bar sale held earlier in the year.

Miss Barb Johnson joined the Lancer cheerleading family this year as the new advisor. In her first year as the organizer, Miss Johnson tried to improve the cheerleading program and drove the school car with a load of girls and pompoms to away games and meets.

Practice began for the cheerleaders the first week in August. They had trouble deciding on the day to meet, but when once they got going there were meetings every Monday and Wednesday night once school got started.

The Athletic Boosters helped the varsity girls get new jackets which were a great addition during the long cold winter season.

Two girls, starting with the seniors, were responsible for the pep auds. Their organizational duties included talking to coaches and planning skits. The "Egg Relay", class spirit award yells and the famous "Mother Switch" were some highlights of the 1977-8 school year thanks to the cheerleaders.

There was a lot of planning to get 33 girls to all the many events that needed cheerleaders, but Miss Johnson found rotation systems and different squads for different sports a challenge. But they made the crowds cheer and added spirit to the North Scott athletic program in 1977-8!

N.S. First At Iowa State Clinic

At 3:00 a.m. on October 1, 1977, twelve members of the Varsity cheerleading squad left Eldridge on our way to a Pep Clinic at Iowa State. We weren't too peppy at the time, but as we neared Ames we became really excited. For many of us it was our first chance to see the Iowa State campus.

While we were there we learned many new cheers like, "We Are Bad" and "Up and Down". We learned a lot of sideline cheers, too, which are great for instilling spirit in a crowd. It was very exciting to be around so many peppy girls in one place.

The last portion of the clinic was "competition". North Scott was entered in the third division. We competed against six other schools. We were all nervous so we just smiled and did our best. It must have been good enough because we were later awarded a first place trophy for our efforts.

The icing on the cake was when we were invited to stay and watch the Iowa State cheerleaders in action. What a way to get started!

CATHY ZIMLICH

Annette Schadt, Pat Van DeWiele, Shelie Saladino, Kathy Sukut, and Pat Whisler have those inside-out blues.

In this list we describe some of our most beautiful flowers, and many of them, with scarcely any care, continue to give a fine display of bloom year after year. Every school should contain at least the most attractive of these hardy pompoms.

HENS Made Christmas Favors For St. Luke's Pediatric Ward

HENS was formed to allow students to take part in home-ec related activities not covered in class. The club was headed by President Kim Larson, Vice President Jolene Ronek, Secretary/Treasurer Eileen Fahrenkrog and Reporter Sarah Mortenson. They invited a representative from Stewarts to speak to the club. HENS also made Christmas favors for the children in St. Luke's pediatric ward.

The F.F.A. (Future Farmers of America) is the largest organization in school, with 100 members. The North Scott FFA meets every third Wednesday night at 8:00 p.m. The group participates every year on February 20th at state contest. This is divided into different categories: Greenhand, Conduct of Meetings,Creed Speaking, Parliamentary Procedure, Extemperaneous Speaker, and Public Speaking.

This year the Christmas fruit, cheese and sausage sale netted the FFA $2,000. FFA members are able to show their livestock at the Mississippi Valley and Iowa State Fairs. This year Peggy Claussen grabbed Reserve Barrow Champion at the state fair. Members feel FFA is very challenging, with the competition of livestock showing and livestock judging contests.

FUTURE FARMING FOR-SYTHIA:This multi sided grower judges best anywhere. It can often be seen blue-jacketed or green thumbed. It is hard to keep it growing straight, but once started properly works very hard to produce! per pkg. $.25 50¢ per ½lb.

This year's Student Congress was led by President Carey Thornton. Two new advisors organized the S.C.: Mr. Jim Logan and Mr. Galen Howsare. Student Congress started the year by planning the Homecoming festivities. Committees were formed to cover each different area. Leading the button committee was Jan Levsen. She saw to it that designs were turned in and that we voted on the best one. The Thursday night aud committee was headed by Kathy Sukut. She took care of the spirit rally and snake dance. The Friday aud committee's chairperson was Jane Hamilton, who planned the aud at which Queen was crowned. The Queen's committee, which took care of all details such as flowers, and setups, was led by Kristie Keefe and Brian James. The days of the week: masquerade day, etc., were thought up by Joani Graham and her committee.

Student Congress's main fund raiser this year was the "Freedom Jam" concert. $144 dollars was made from that project. Student Congress started a new tradition this year. To make our foreign exchange students welcome Christmas presents were bought for them and given out at the Christmas aud by Carey Thornton.

Freshmen Student Congress is a shakey establishment.

LEEKS: Made famous by the United States Congress, this plant can range from a small rumor to a large nonkept secret. It succeeds best in gossipy conversations. It often stems from boring meetings usually sown in September. This plant often fails to bloom. The next leek you hear should be considered very carefully before incorporation into your garden. National Honor Society does not meet as a group on a regular basis. It does not act as a club which meets once a week or twice a month. Instead, it is a group of students who act jointly to accomplish the various responsibilities of the Honor Society.

One of the biggest functions of the N.H.S. was to sponsor the annual sock hop. This sock hop was held on September 9, after a home football game. Another responsibility accepted by the N.S. was the organization of the WOC High School Bowl team. The largest activity held by Honor Society is the spring banquet, on March 21. The banquet was held to honor new members and give old members and their parents a chance to socialize for an evening.

NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL HYBRIDS

GISELLA BALDIZON

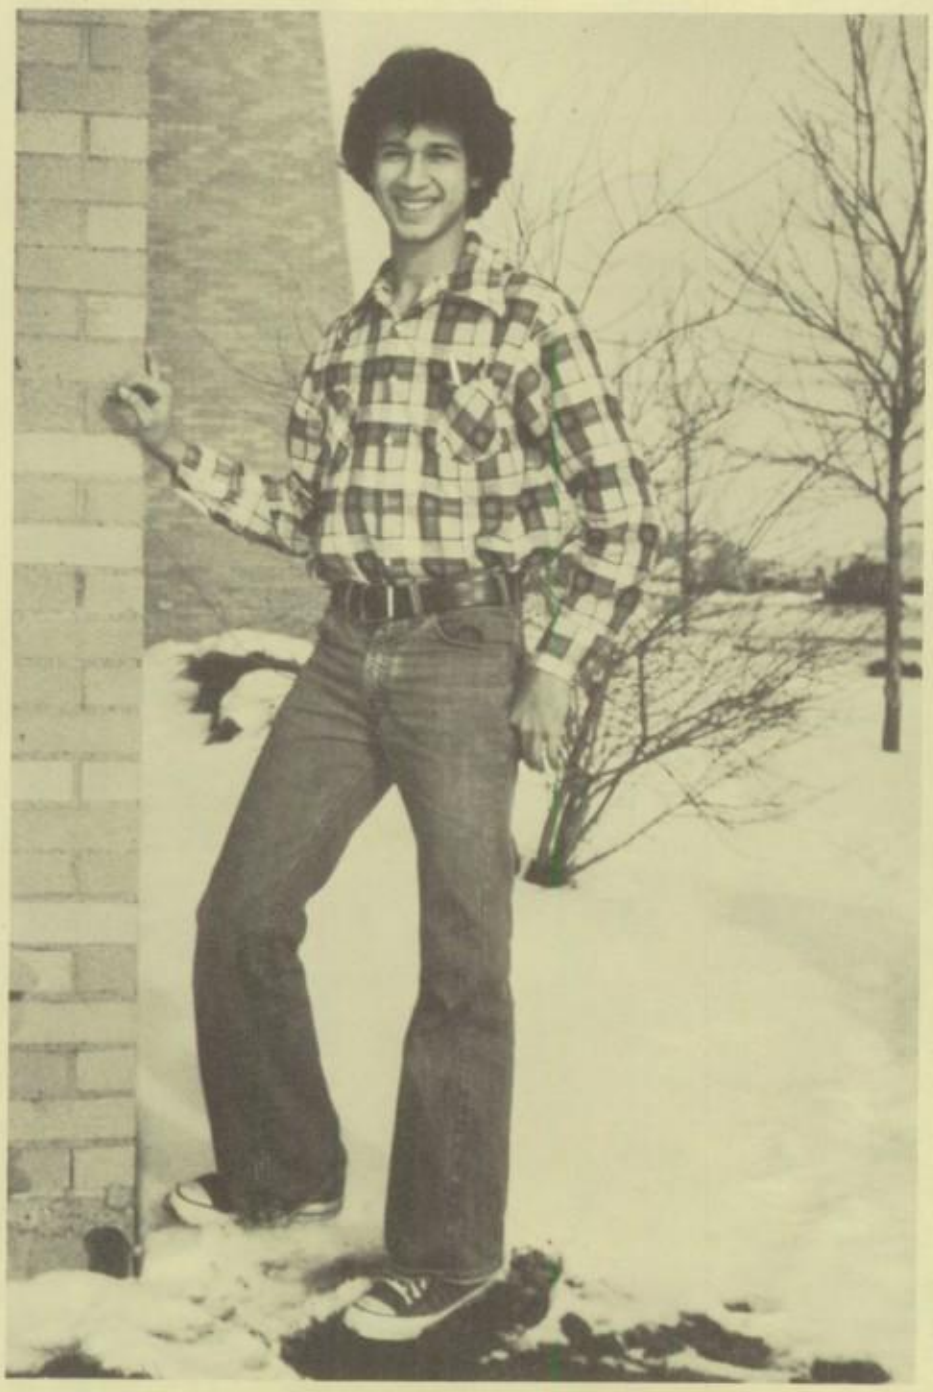
From the beautiful warmth of Guatemala came 17 year old Gisella Baldizon to live with the Jim Tanks of Eldridge. The new experience of snow was shared with her "American brother and sisters" Amy, Tom and Beth. Behind in Guatemala, Gisella left a sister and brother, ages 18 and 2. English proved no real problem for our visitor, except for our slang!

TOR KANSTED

Joining our two other foreign exchange students by traveling from Norway, Tor stayed with Mr. John Peters and his son Tim while in Eldridge. Tor liked all our American cars, but found our language a real challenge.

CARLOS RIVERA

Wrestling and tennis are what Carlos looked forward to in America as he came to live with the Richard Collins family in Fellner's Addition south of Eldridge. In Tampico, Mexico Carlos left two sisters and a brother. He found the snow very cold, but that didn't stop him from trying to ski, another first for Carlos.



Carlos Rivera stands at the new gymnasium's east wing.

A summer workshop at the University of Iowa for Anne Kuehl and Doni Van Ryswyk started preparations for the 19th volume of The Lance. With publication almost every week of the school year, the editorial board planned for better issues each week.

As part of the North Scott Press, The Lance goes to the community as well as being distributed to the student body.

The fall convention of the Iowa High School Press Association in Des Moines was a highlight for some of the staff.

Jerry Woods, production manager for the W. Atlee Burpee Company, and Shield advisor Mr. Len Cockman agree that Burpee and Shield Seeds grow as Freddie Farmer looks on!

Shield Plants Seeds For Growing Memories In The Future

ANNUAL FORGET-ME-NOTS: This hardy flower's greatest success is the many hours of work producing this excellent book. Blooming annually each year, it is the most waited for book in May. While other plants are usually dormant you may find this flower preparing for spring during the coldest weather and fiercest storms. Any garden without one will surely be forgotten in years to come.

SHIELD EDITORIAL STAFF: Connie Gampana, Advisor Mr. Len Cockman, Cathy Zimlich, Mike Zimmer, Mary Thee, Doni Van Ryswyk, Jeni Gertz.

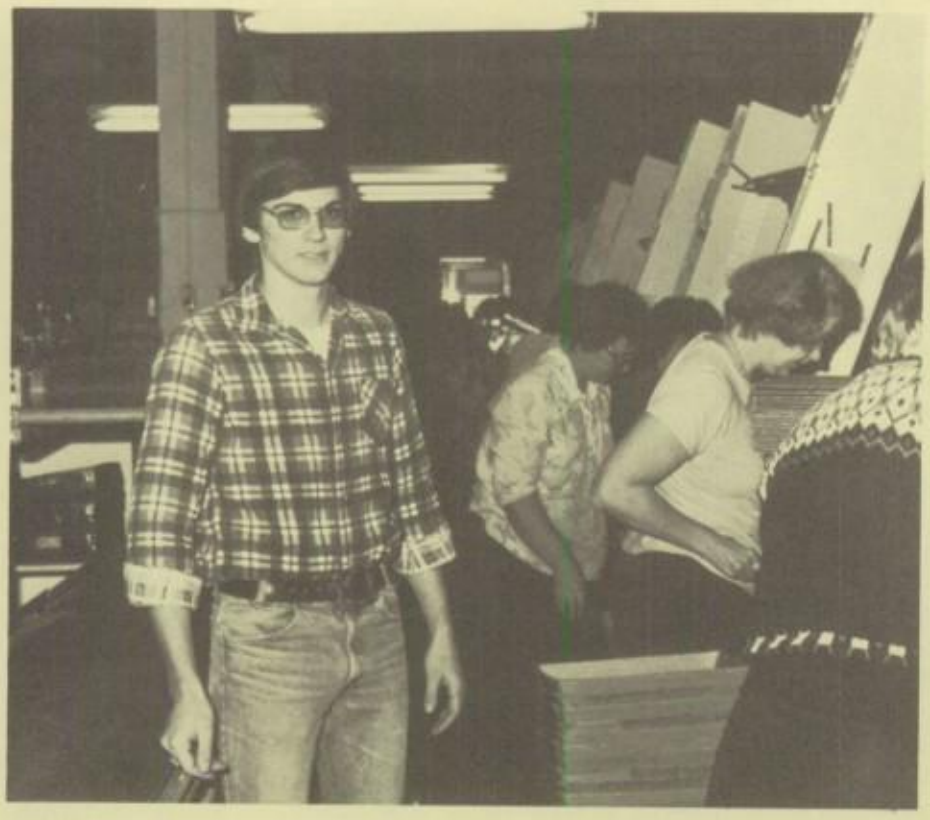
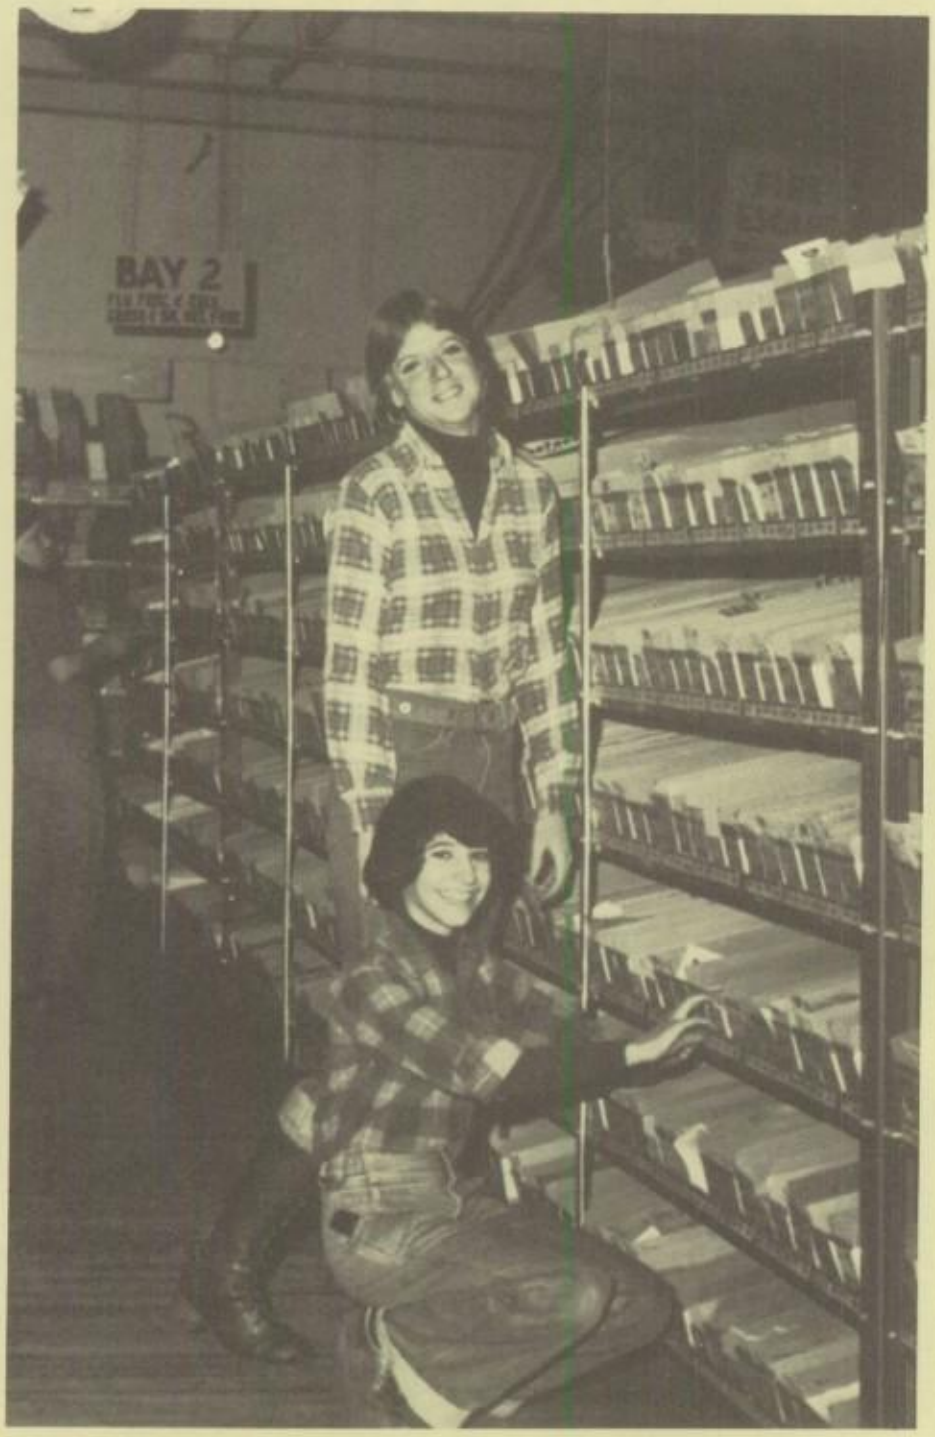
ANNUAL FORGET-ME-NOTS



Activities Editor Mike Zimmer watches as seeds are boxed and prepared for shipment.

Academics Editor Mary Thee selects a seed packet to correspond with the right idea of growth in a yearbook section.



Shield Co-Editors Jeni Gertz and Connie Campana organize some of our many varieties into a memory book for 1978.

Some of our inspiration came from this 1888 Burpee's seed catalog.

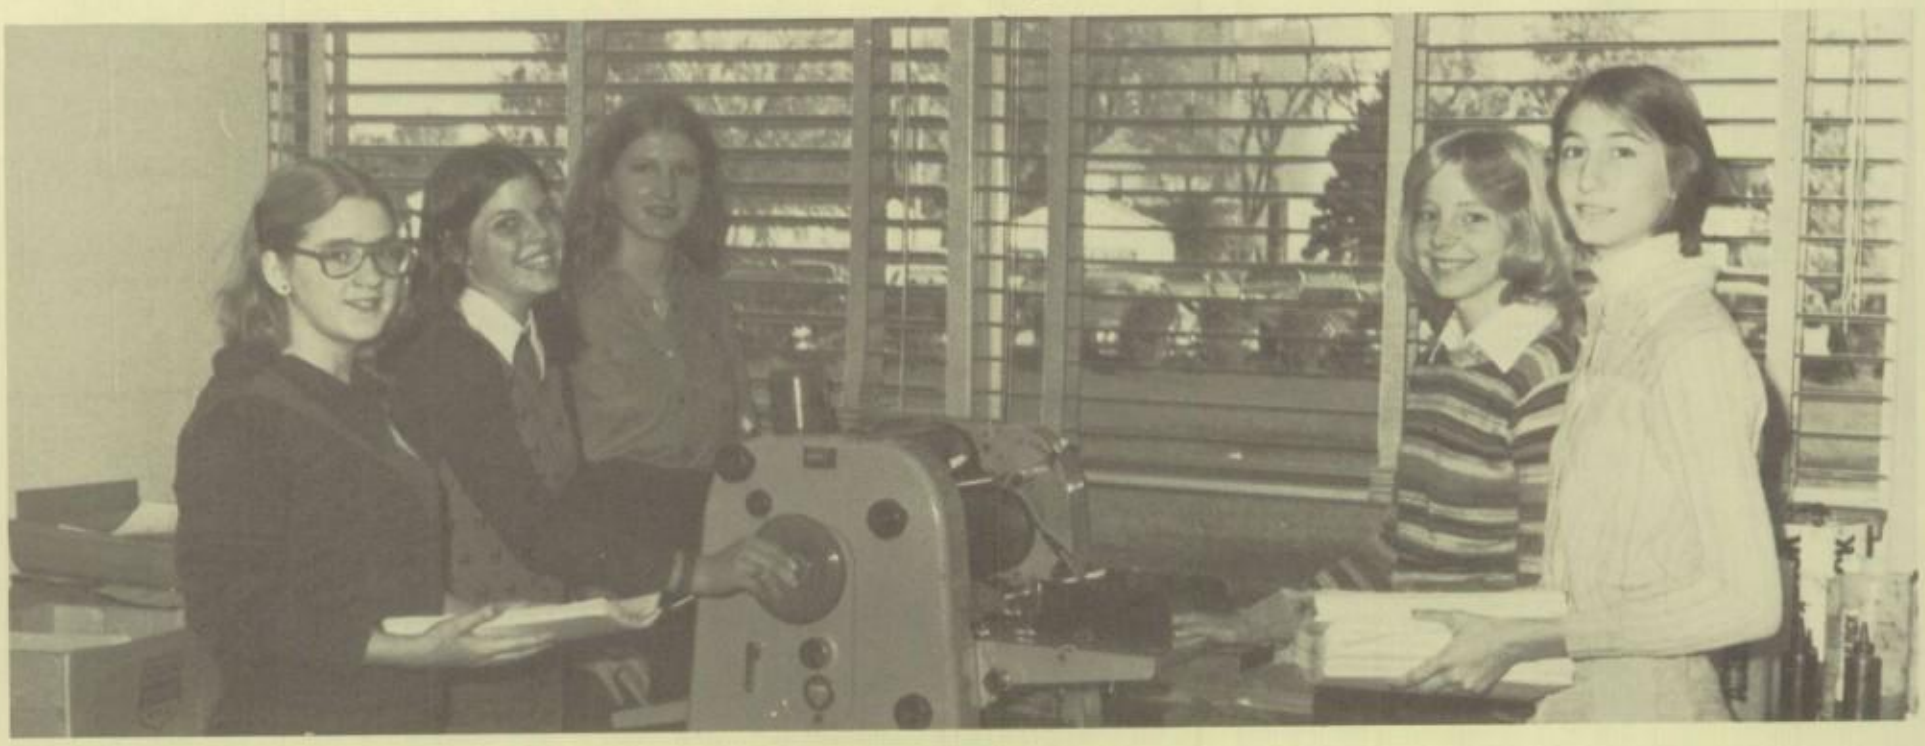
Those worksheets and study guides you get from your teachers are made for you by the workshop girls. These girls do the typing and run off jobs on both the Spirit duplicator and stencil machine. Forms are submitted by the teache `elling what needs to be done with the job, the date submitted, and the due date. The girls work on a voluntary basis, but are graded on work they do. So much work must be completed during the quarter to receive at least a C grade. More work must be done to get an A or B. Mrs. Granger is the organizer of the workshop, keeping a time schedule and making sure everything is in stock.

WORKSHOP WISTERIA: This profusely worked flowering bush can duplicate very well. It can type and corelate as well, and can staple a variety of products. It only grows well between Ala and Al, during the sunny hours. No garden can be well tended without these wonder workers. 8¢ per pkg., $1.12 per lb.

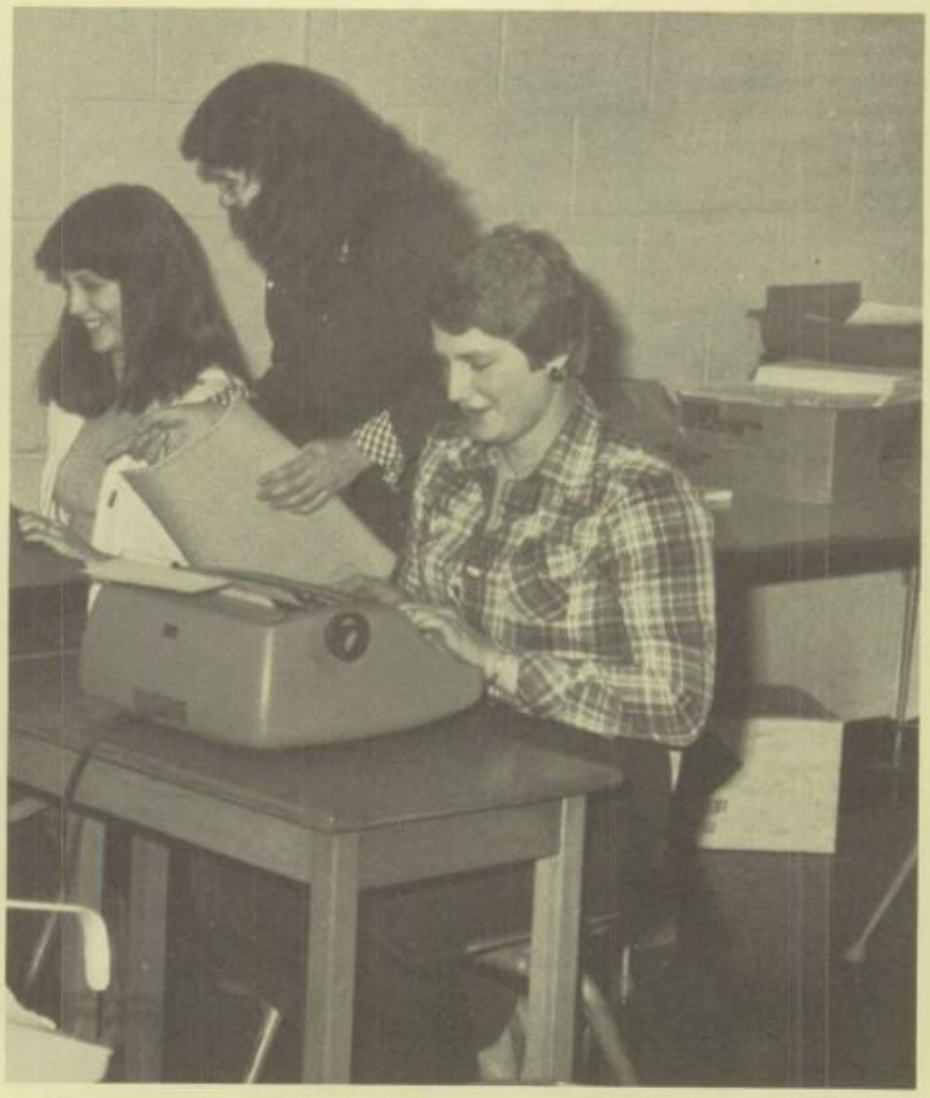
Sue Fury and Chris Curtis prepare to run off copy, after copy, after copy . . .



Deanna Claussen, Betsy Fury, Carol Simmons, Dianne Hambleton, and Tina Wendel make good use of the school's duplicating machine on a mass pile of papers for teachers.

WORKSHOP WISTERIA

Tami Whitmer and Diane Knapper show concentration while typing.



Peg Claussen, Rhonda Becker and Barb Singleton are hard at work.

Barb DeSchepper, Dena Rauch and Lorene Anderson show that team work and cooperation will get these papers ready for the teachers.

A warehouse of knowledge can be found in the school library.

Rhonda Moore and Rhonda Becker laminate copies of yesterday's news for use on bulletin boards.

Dale Claeys, Cheryl Wuestenberg, and Sarah Mortenson file magazines.

Lynn Meyer, Shari Shimp, Robin Grabeel and Barb Lockwood take time to show a freshly printed poster for the fall play.

LIBRARY LILIES

Mr. Coffman, Nancy Peckenschneider, and Diana Miller work hard to keep the library in order.

Library aide Mrs. Lorraine Young files library cards.

COUGHING LILY: This hardy grower can find its way in any garden filled with many other varieties. It can seek and find sunshine and air and is the enlightment of the entire garden. Sometimes it rearranges itself and is hard to find. Developed by the famous Rasputin farms, this coughing lily is vital to any beautiful garden since it supplies much information on all subjects. It is found in places of quietness and where people are studying. This ever expanding flower has also added a computer to its vast resources. 4½¢ per pkg.; $2.00 per lb.

Marianne Curtis Selected A.M.S. Business Queen Representative

The Office Education Club's first project of the year was selling candy to raise money which the club used to give their bosses a dinner and to attend the state convention.

During the year they had speakers and tours from different businesses and colleges.

They held meetings on the second and fourth of every month. Each girl also held an office job which was graded as part of their classwork.

M&M And Candy Bar Sales Send FBLA To Spring Convention

The North Scott Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America met the first Tuesday of every month. Selling M & M's was the first project the club undertook. Money was raised to go the FBLA State Convention this spring. Other activities the members were involved in were dressing up on Halloween and taking candy to children in a hospital, having guest speakers, and giving flowers to the school secretaries during National Secretarys' Week.

When a teacher of the future comes to point out to the youth of America how the highest rewards of intellect and devotion can be gained, he may say to them, not by subtlety and intrigue; not by wirepulling and demagoguery; not by the arts of popularity; not by skill and shiftiness in following expediency; but by being firm in devotion to the principles of manhood and the application of morals and the courage of righteousness in the public life of our country; by being a man without guile and without fear, without selfishness, and with devotion to duty, devotion to his country.

"He who is taught to live upon little owes more to his father's wisdom than he that has a great deal left him owes to his father's care."
William Penn

Few people in this country today have been taught to "Live upon little", with respect to energy and other natural resources. Times are changing. To bring ourselves into harmony with the new realities we need to teach ourselves new and more thoughtful habits. It is a personal challenge to each of us and all together.

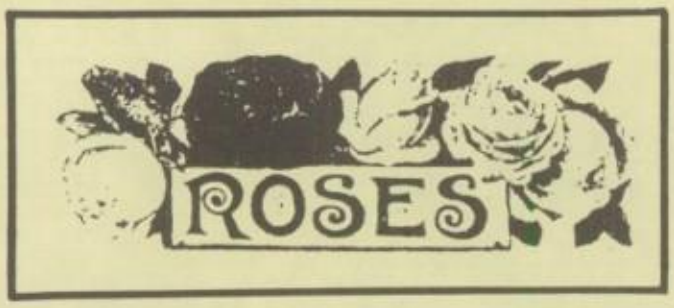
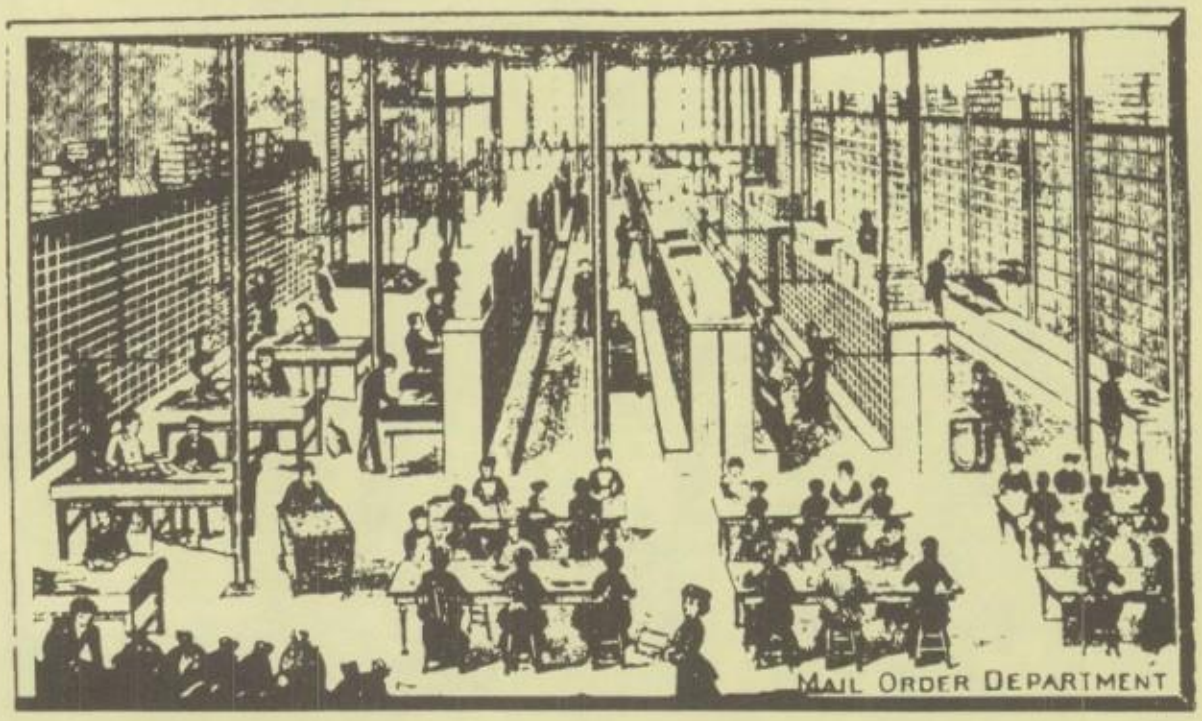
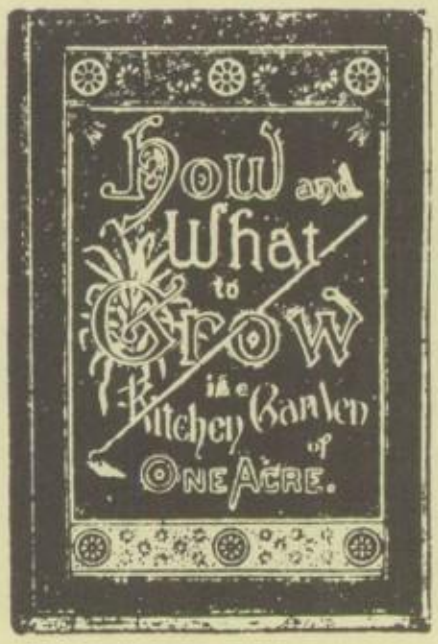
OUR ANNUAL FOR 1978



.Index Editor Cathy Zimlich keeps track of our "seeds" as our mascot "Gertzie" keeps her eyes on the work. We hope you are impressed!

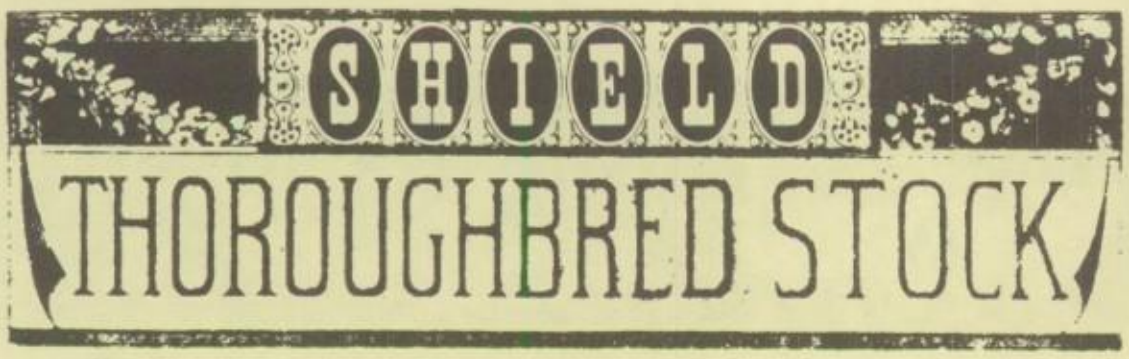


Co-Editor Connie Campana can point out the packaging mistakes to our employee.



HOW TO GROW IN A KITCHEN GARDEN OF ONE ACRE is going to be published next year! If you want a copy of this wonderful how-to book, don't write, call or cable today or tomorrow!

This is our staff ready to ship off their memories to you!



ALMOST THE LAST

Mike Zimmer watches an employee package seeds for shipment. They come from a bin above.

GO PLANT

Do you have the idea that we are trying to tell you something? Well we had a lot of fun doing this book with ideas from the Burpee Seed Co. in Clinton. With some ideas from their 1888 catalog and the goings on at NSHS, we want to know if you grew this year?

Some grew a lot and some grew a little, but this book is trying to say that everyone grew and here are the memories to prove it! We think: Growing is Living! Happy Growing.

Visiting our friends at Burpee Seeds and Mr. Jerry Woods, general manager, are Mike Zimmer, Mr. Len Cockman, Connie Campana, Mary Thee, Jeni Gertz, Cathy Zimlich and Doni Van Rwysyk of the Shield Seed Co.

Music To Grow By

Cheers, cheers for ol'
North Scott High,
We pile the victories
clear to the sky, for we never stop to rest,
We keep on fighting to do our best.
Whether we lose or whether we win,
We will be loyal until the end,
For our Lancer sons go marching onward to Victory!

PLANT NOW REAP LATER

SINCE 1958, LANCERLAND HAS HAD INCREASING CHAMPIONSHIP YIELDS

Since North Scott started in 1959, we have produced increasing senior graduating classes. As every planter knows, there are some years that, due to dry spells, corn boars, and increased population of the root worm, our yields were lower than the year before.

Our present count at press time revealed this year's harvest will be 3.4% greater than our yields in 1959.

Also by chisal plowing in the fall and early planting we have increased our yields by 40 bushels over last year.

With good fertilizer, good seed, and good care we are proud of our increasing championship yields.
